

When we had the attack where we were shown our worst nightmares, I felt like I was going to die of shock.

I had seen the vision of my family disowning me and throwing me out onto the streets as the king of nightmare kept taunting me over that "Mistake" we made to Question his priorities and himself.

But after making it through that dream it only made me more motivated to stop the king and wanted to get payback on him for everything he has done.