

In the next few days Thomas would become Acquainted with two new people, a golden retriever named Johnny and a dark colored rat named Harry.

Johnny Willams is the leader of the video game club at school, and he is a 5'10 blue eyed golden retriever with a skinny build, he has normal length hair the same color as his fur. He wears light blue glasses and is known for wearing his light blue hoodie with various video game pins on it with his school uniform. He is a shy nerdy kid, fairly smart but is a bit of a pervert among some of the guys he finds "attractive" and if it wasn't obvious enough he is gay but acts perverted on the inside.

As For Harry Petrov, he is a 6ft very skinny rat with dark fur with black hair and brown eyes, with a lighter color chest/stomach with a lot of cuts and scrapes that are not visible to others. He wears his dark brown beanie with black fingerless gloves with a black undershirt under his dress shirt. He appears Anti-social and intimidating to others, but is actually a kindhearted people pleaser who is very hard working and extroverted.

It was pure randomness that Thomas had known these two people that he got along well with but were unaware of what was going to happen to them next.