

Thomas was wandering around the working class town where he discovered that Johnny and Harry were magic users as they were practicing in a heavily forested area.

"Wait... Johnny?Harry? Is it you?"

Thomas had peeked out from behind the bushes as the others had relaxed.

"What are you doing here?"

"I was about to ask you that same Question..."

Thomas then had an idea, to put together a team to explore this magical phenomenon on the spot.

Johnny and Harry were reluctant but decided to join this "team".

Some magic monsters had appeared and then something strange happened as the three were prepared to fight and their clothes changed.

Thomas- He wears a red princely outfit with a white cape and white gloves with red accents with black boots.

-His main element is fire, and his magic form is a three headed feral lion, with his weapon being a fire lance.

Johnny- He wears a basic Ninja with blue sandals with the hood off, with black gloves with blue highlights to them.

-His main element is water and uses yo-yos made of water as his weapon, his magic form is Water-Hammer head shark.

Harry- Wears a Dark Gray cloak with a raven shaped pendant holding together at the chest level, He wears a black skin tight bodysuit and black gloves with Gray fingertips with Gray slip on shoes.

-He is a natural master for using the dark/shadow element and his magic form is a demon with knives as his weapon.

The Three then realized what their next goal was, to become "The Magic Fighters" and to investigate this "Magic Hour" ahead of them.
