

With Thomas's Uncle Kevin seeing the growth of the team and what his nephew was doing he wanted to help the team with more manpower and train their powers.

Thomas had perfected his fire powers and learned a few new tricks thanks to his lionheart heritage.

Johnny feeling a bit awkward using water later felt a lot more comfortable using it after Kevin Lionheart helped him gain more confidence with it.

Harry and Lucas were in the same boat as well, learned how to use their powers but had a bit more trouble with their more advanced moves but later figured it out.

Preston and Skyler being the intelligent people they have figured out the extent of their powers already.

Vincent and Christopher were naturally getting stronger but Wyatt was having a bit of trouble as he was more support oriented.

Kevin Lionheart had taught Wyatt that even though he can't fight on the front lines, he could help as best as he can from the sidelines.

Wyatt had then discovered that he could use his powers to create protective barriers and to enhance his powers to support the team.

Afterwards Thomas had pulled Harry aside to give him the title of Vice leader officially if he had to step in to help lead in Thomas's place.

After the Training Thomas was feeling more confident in himself, his friends and teammates and ready to take on anything.
