

Johnny sobbing was covering his bloody arms, as he had snuck out to the school roof as he had laid down a note next to his backpack and belongings.

He sighed and took a deep breath as he got closer to the edge as Owen had tackled him to the ground.

"GET A HOLD OF YOURSELF"

"But... I can't because he rejected me..."

"JUST BECAUSE SOMEONE REJECTED YOU IS NOT A REASON TO END YOUR OWN LIFE.... Because you also hurt the people closest to you who care about you."

Owen had gotten up and helped Johnny up off the ground as he held him close, trembling hard still crying with some blood dripping out of his clothing.

Owen, trying his best to not break down, grabbed Johnny by putting him over his shoulder and his stuff and basically booked it off the school roof.

Johnny had attempted self erasure... but it wasn't worth it at all doing it over someone who rejected you because as Owen said "because you also hurt the people closest to you who care about you" if he had gone through with it and was successful.
