

Dominique was now making the lives of the now Five members of the monster fighter's a living hell at school.

He was spreading really nasty rumors and the team could not piece together why, but they knew they could not do much as Dominique had said he would go to the police and rat out Adam as the mastermind of the kidnapping cases across the city around museums.

While yeah it was a semi effective threat, as Dominique has a video of Chester going into a painting and the class of middle school kids being rescued as well, but it wasn't as effective as the video could have been faked so either way it was dangerous.
