

The team then had taken on the next museum's monster dimension the 6th museum to see if anyone else was kidnapped or missing inside it.

However, they had a really rough time between the last mission which was last week and this new exploration this week.

They also nearly lost because they were out of practice basically before Axel used his powers to save the team before they got hurt too badly.

So after taking a day off they went back to kick the ass of the 6th boss and empty out the dungeon, but there were no clues to where these monsters spawned from which was really bugging Adam out the most.