

Axel had pinpointed that the 7th dungeon was acting like a spawning ground to the many monsters that kept spawning in the monster dimension.

Axel had also noticed that the source was coming from the biggest Museum in the very center of the city and was the biggest out of all of them in town.

Adam had then pointed out that it's likely where the mastermind is, with nowhere else where logically it could hide.

And so it was decided that in one week they would be taking on the final dungeon and the mastermind whomever it may be down and end this for all.
