

The team has tried to put things together.

The Academy of Pride.

The Police Force of Sloth.

The Club of Lust.

The Gangs of Wrath and Lastly the Factory of Gluttony.

They figured out that whomever is starting these shadow castles are tethering them down somehow, as if it was some sort of link tying them down.

Brandon had sensed that there was something under each under castle, almost like a vine holding this place down.

Brandon has said there is a much more powerful force that he can't sense that's so close he could not put his finger on, almost like a heartbeat or powerforce of sorts.