

So one sleepy Saturday Nathan had woken up early one morning to get breakfast before he overheard something from the living room.

"so... my plan on creating these shadow castles is going well"

Mr Nightwing can be heard on the phone talking to someone.

"My next plan is trying to shake off the dust of my powers to further my own goals of creating chaos in the city..."

It was then learned that Nathan's dad was the one behind all this.