

So Artemis using his special magic howl attacks, had caused his crappy singing voice from before to change to rival solaris's singing voice.

So after he sang a little bit to Solaris his brother was shocked by that.

"So... you can sing now right?"

"Apparently...but I would rather be more comfortable just not singing... haha"

Solaris was feeling a little bit jealous of his younger brother and kinda felt a rumble of jealousy in his chest but he shook it off.

"Now would it be funny if you were able to be famous like your older brother?"

"Yeah it would but i doubt that would have ever happen even with i did see into the future with future vision"
