

Magma Blaze Igneous was born on June 30th 2001, making him 18 in the events of the story.

He was known to be a thrill seeker and an adventurous young child occasionally causing trouble wherever he went. He did calm down a bit as he grew up but not much. He is always the one to raise his paws in a scuffle. He has a few siblings Kai (22), Diana (20), and Vesta (16), he and his father are on strained terms as they had a very bad argument some time before the story began.

The huge argument was over Magma refusing to be the next king of his kingdom as he felt that his older brother Kai would be a better fit to be king than he is. His father thought Magma was better and had a strained argument because magma did not want to be king once his father steps down or get a girlfriend.