

One month later after the events of season one, the wolves had been living on their homeworld becoming a bit more technology advanced than a month ago.

The new things like smartphones came into more widespread use, not that too different than on earth compared on the Gaian homeworld.

The wolves also now have smartphones now, Artemis was able to talk to Amber on Earth with his and vice versa.

The Rebels of Gaia are still the same, but they replaced their beast triggers with the special beast bracelet, having the trigger stone and the band stone within it.

The last thing to be mentioned is this, there are special beast fighting areas that have been established across the 9 kingdoms across the planet. They are basic fields used for the sports, but for many years even now the main beast fighting stadium is still in the heart of Opal City.

"And Now the battle will begin!" The camera pans to show the huge beast fighting stadium in opal city. Victor and Colton are seen having a battle in the stadium the two being pretty evenly matched. Colton creates small earthquakes and hills to try to throw off Victor but Victor breaks the earth that is thrown at him.

Colton then summons his beast form, as Victor does the same and after Steel and Strength magic collide it creates a sandstorm.

Once the dust disappeared Colton was left standing as Victor was down, and the practice match was over for the day and another battle of Gaian magic
