

So with new team members meant that more training would be needed to help keep the Synergy flowing between everyone as they fought.

Justin was a normal wolf, but had stolen gear and a magic blaster gotten from his family's magic armoury.

He can use special magic blasters to fight with and act like a long distance fighter, and has grappling hooks as well with a few other toys.

Solaris, like his brother, has the moonstone wildcard but chooses to use his raw psychic powers to fight. However he fights using a battle axe, and in a different way compared to akira. He also can use a microphone to amplify his voice for more sound based attacks.

Dakota is a firewolf without having the heatproof power, he can create two fire swords to fight with and uses his flames as a speed boost to attack with.

Dakota and Solaris have their own beast forms and Justin is just a normal gaian wolf.
