

So the plan was put into action by the opal sisters, and back on earth (as the last few episodes were on a weekend on Gaia) they destroy and rebuild.

The Alert that things were going bad on Gaia was sent to the wolves at around 3pm on Earth they were having a picnic with Amber, her siblings and a few other people.

The wolves pulled out their phones at the same time and all had worried looks on their faces.

As if by reflex Artemis looked at where Gaia was from earth, with a sparkle in his eyes.

"Wolves... we are going to save home prepare yourselves"

The wolves all then stood up to run to the temple.

But Amber had grabbed Artemis's hand causing him to flinch a bit.

"Hey be careful up there..." Amber directed Artemis to kneel down as she kissed him on the forehead. As he tried to hold back tears, hugged her back and held her close for a moment.

Amber and the other people she was with stood up to watch as Amber started to cry a bit sensing the danger.

Artemis's ship can then be seen blasting off into the sky.
