

While Master's Away

By Xenny Diemes

Part One: Away Time

Ollie and Mnemosyne are two of Xendrian's most cherished, pet feral werewolves. Ollie was once a strong and powerful alpha in his pack on another world until for reasons unknown, violently ousted him from the pack he helped made strong. Xendrian found him on the edge of death and in a bold move, brought him to his world. It was worth going through bureaucratic red-tape to keep him as an exotic pet. He still has a lot to adjust to this new world but saving him has earned the blue weredragon a faithful companion. Mnemosyne or "Mnema" is the equivalent of a rescue dog. Saved from the dangerous and deadly world of beast fighting, where wild werewolves and other therian ferals fight to the death for profit. Mnema has been enhanced with a drug called "moon juice" which under certain conditions can increase her overall height and musculature, making her more fight ready.

Mnema has been spared being put down by Xendrian and is given a better home from the cold, dark cage and the cruelty of her former masters. The hard part is dealing with her ability to get huge and ripped. Like the time she gained an extra thousand pounds of pure muscle just to shove Xendrian out, as he was trying to give her a bath. But like Ollie, she's also adjusting to a better life and learns that some things aren't frightening then they were before. As the two rest, they hear a call from their master and they both run up to him. Cuddles and lick-kisses aside, Xendrian gives them the unfortunate news that his job has called him to an assignment that might last for three months. He can already see their expressions of sadness but he is confident that they will be on their good behavior.

As Xendrian leaves and the double doors close, Ollie and Mnema flopped themselves on the couch and relax and slowly deal with having to go without their best friend for three months. Mnema looks to Ollie and asks if they want to do something fun while he's away. Ollie thinks about it and decides to do that, but only at night. Mnema wonders why does it want to do that so late and quickly realizes that it's a full moon night and the other free roam werewolves will be there as well around the city. Following that night. Mnema and Ollie use their strength and skills to leap from one building to another, dodging speeding hover cars and slim obstacles. Slipping through the spaces far better than any parkour runner. There, the two met the other free roam werewolves and gather together to howl, and later mingle.

Part Two: At Home

Mnema is the first to be awake by the loud snores of her friend and wakes up her friend with a light bap on the nose. Shaking it off, Ollie wonders what they did last night as he can hardly remember. Mnema filled in that detail of what happened after that night with recollections of Ollie challenging another strong alpha for fun, scaring a few locals and was knocked unconscious when he hit his head against a tree. When he asks how it happened, it was the result of his insatiable urge to chase a squirrel to which he feels embarrassed the last time he did that and was dragging Xendrian through twelve blocks for it. He couldn't help himself, they are just fun to chase... and eat. Hearing the growls in their stomachs it was time for them to eat. They do remember that Xen has left them a huge cache of meat for them to last for the months and they checked it out.

In the storage fridge, it is a carnivore's paradise. Brawvine steaks, rack of lamb as far as their eyes can see, and chicken, anyway they want it. The two grabbed as much as they can in their arms and depending on the type, either ate it raw or let the auto-cooker make it for them. Together, they ate the first one hundred pounds of meat, all for a growing and healthy werewolf. That extra energy is used for what they did for the rest of the day, play fighting, more free roams in the day and the use of the gym to keep themselves fit. Ollie learned some basic training and high-power techniques that kept his muscles more focused on strength rather than mere mass, though it helps. Mnema's method is all about maintaining and building up her current physique without going into the hulking form. So far, the results are really promising, and loves to mimic the poses the pro bodybuilders on TV do in front of the mirror. Little does she know, it does gain Ollie's eye as he watches every rippling sinew over her body and can't get enough of her tight, lightly coated booty. That view will come closer to him than he would expect later on.

As night dawns on the city, Mnema calls for the apartment's computer to turn off the lights so they can go to bed, they have been roamed-out and want to take one night to stay and sleep. Sleeping in their respective beds, Ollie slept on his back in his bed and Mnema in hers, hugging her favorite toy: a large plush duck. Then suddenly there has been a break at the door and Mnema is the first to wake up and carefully see what is going on. Much to her shock there are two robbers who broke in, made worse by the fact that this robber had two werewolves that are the same ones that were in the same full moon night howl. Mnema tries to rush to get Ollie and help her but the robber spots Mnema and orders his pets to grab Mnema. Ollie couldn't help them because when he gets into a state of deep sleep, not even an explosion could wake him up. Being pinned down the dark-furred beast and his partner warned if she tries to resist, she will be killed.

As the robber takes several items from the shelves, records, electronics and even his personal treasures, but what really sets Mnema off is that one of the werewolves take her toy, that's what sets her off. The she-wolf's eyes burn bright whitish-blue, every muscle in her body explode in size in waves until she is twice as big as the monster that pinned her down. Take Xen's stuff is one thing but take the one thing that comforted her through her transition to normality is a invitation to an ass-kicking but a hulking she-beast! Ollie does wake up from the sounds of crashes and screams and springs into action. But as he runs in, he is tackled and run over by the scared robber and the two wolves now running with their tails between their legs, yapping along the way. Looking back, he sees Mnema, huge and flexed out with her eyes glowing. With the danger now gone, Ollie witnesses Mnema slowly shrink back.

Crawling to reach out for her toy she is relieved that it is still in good condition, as much as she could say for the rest of the room that has been trashed. She explains that a robber with two wolves from the full moon night were here but is cut off and is comforted by Ollie in his arms. She does admit she was scared but is glad that it's over, not even the squeak from her toy didn't spoil the moment.

Part Three: "Playtime"

There isn't a moment where Mnema and Ollie wouldn't love to roughhouse around the apartment and they chase each other up and down the place with great speed, often dodging obstacles and carefully not knocking anything over or smashing it. They even have a race at the gym of how many reps they can do in an hour. Ollie obviously wins but if Mnema had a chance to bulk herself up, she would have beaten him by miles! The clock strikes three in the afternoon and the two here playing around until Ollie gets her duck and Mnema wants it back, he eggs her on into making him want it. The two fight it out until they get into a tumble over the couch and by some weird way, Ollie falls flat on his back and Mnema, falls on top of him with her beautiful bum slamming right on top of his face.

It's a feeling, a sensation that struck Ollie like an unstoppable train and as Mnema has finally got her toy back, she felt something thick and hard rising from under her breasts. She moves back and is taken into total shock at the sight of it. She never thought that his friend would be so... Big! Seventeen inches and four inches thick of raw wolf meat throbbing in front of her and she knows what causes it. She didn't even know it as well but Mnema decides that it was time that they can do a new kind of "playtime" together. Mnema tells a butt-muffled Ollie that if he wants it, he's going to have to eat it. As Ollie licks and playfully tingles her tight pussy, Mnema begins to work to suck down all of his length. This is their first time and already they're pleasuring themselves as if they were seasoned pros.

Having such a long wolf tongue wrap around that cock and sucking it hard. Meanwhile, Ollie is really digging deep into her wet sex that she is trying to resist the urge of crushing his head from the jolt of pure pleasure. Then came the moment when she can feel the surge of cum flowing up his urethra and pulls out. Ollie grabs her ass tight as he can as he finally cums. The stream shoots high enough to hit the ceiling and drip back down on both of them. Mnema didn't know he can come that hard. But she wants to see how hard he can do it where it really counts. Mnema gets up and walks up to her bed and lays flat on her stomach and presents herself, telling her to have some of it, ALL of it. That easily gets Ollie nice and hard again and starts to come up and shove nearly all of himself into her.

Mnema never felt something so powerful before. The pleasure is so much that it indirectly activated her juicing power and her eyes glowed again. Ollie is too horny pounding into such a nice ass to notice that she is growing huge. By the time he opens up, the huge hunk of wolf is pounding into an even bigger piece of meat. Speaking in a deeper voice she challenges him to take on a real woman and the surge of power flowed into his cock and it got thicker and harder to shove into such a beefy cunt. Mnema urges him to pound in harder and he does. The whole session lasted nearly half an hour, no werewolf around could ever endure so much without going off. But the moment came when Ollie tells the powerful she-beast that he is about to explode. He does and from both cock and pussy, Ollie explodes inside Mnema and Mnema in kind, explodes as well. Flooding with the force of a fire hydrant with so much white spraying all over the room.

A loud howl filled the apartment as they hit the peak of their pleasure. Soon after, the two of them collapsed, Mnema turns onto her back and Ollie after feeling the twist, pulls out of her pussy with a loud pop which is music to her ears. Still feeling that he has some left, Ollie shoots off on top of her massive, firm tits and abs with his thick and sticky cum. Mnema really likes this new form of play and hope they can do it next time. Ollie loves it too but all that really tired him out, Mnema pulls him in and holds his small body in her titanic tits and massive arms, all to comfort him while resting on top of his own spooge-covered playmate. Mnema knows Ollie is lying to her when he said he's tired, if he really is, why is still getting hard again. But that makes her happy that even tired out he still wants to fuck her brains out. With their playtime over, the two sleep the rest of the night, ready to deal with the mess later.

Part Four: Xen Comes Home

It has been a week since first night of wild sex and things have been on the up and up for them. They still eat right, work out in the gym and even try to use cleaning equipment to rid of some “evidence” of their mating including the strong scent of their sex which did get the attraction of the other females that caught a whiff of it for miles. While they were sitting around on the couch, they hear the double doors of the elevator open again. Mnema fears of the robber coming back again with a vengeance and immediately gets hulked up ready to fight them. She will not be pinned down and helpless again.

As soon the doors open, Mnema runs in for an attack and immediately discovers that it is Xendrian before colliding with him back to the elevator. She tries to apologize by lick-kissing him, tail wagging happily and hugging him around her huge beefy arms before shrinking back to normal. Xen though bruised up from the impact, is happy to see Mnema is alright as well as Ollie with a smile, and feeling the strong hand of his friend petting him on the head. Xen then looks around at the place and sees it a bit less damaged than it was the last time, even smelled better than before, signaling that they did a good job keeping the place cleaned up. After cleaning himself up and packing away his stuff, The dragon rests on his couch and watches TV while Ollie and Mnema rest with him, when he gets the energy, he will tell the two of them of his mission. But he is fast asleep as the TV blazes on and the two wolves step off and walk around the back to the restroom. Why? Because Ollie and Mnema are in the mood again and want to do some more “Playtime”.
