#4. Quick Cash

There are so many things for a giant Lemur with a monstrous dick to do when the events of the beach fight come back to bite you in the ass. Luckily for him, the local police was easy on him because the gang has been causing trouble long before they met Zack however they just can't let him get away from all the trouble he caused. There is still the matter of him using certain pieces of equipment as weapons and thanks to him the beach side gym, which is owned fully by the city lost half of its stuff to which Zack is ordered to pay for. This leaves him several thousands of dollars in the hole and it won't be enough for his job at the newsstand to get it all back including the need for rent which was coming soon. So he had to find a way to make some quick cash soon before the next paycheck or else he'll be out on the street. Since the day he moved in the landlord have couldn't have strived to find legitimate reasons for wanting him out and being behind on his rent will be one of them.

The most obvious take on getting a job was one that can put his huge muscles to good use: Construction. But there weren't any major projects out there and the only things that he can do legally is just carry stuff. For a few days he worked on a number of small house projects where the use of a mini-crane was unnecessary when you have someone who can lift over ten tons of materials across numerous sites. Zack became the main focus for some of the ladies who only came out of their houses or peek through the window just to get a good gaze of him and his ripping bod underneath all that thin layer of fur. They don't mind his massive bulge except those who really love men who are really big down there. Zack doesn't mind the attention but hopes he doesn't break their hearts too harshly for his orientation but he knows they mean well.

But sadly at the end of the day all the hard work and stares don't equal the earnings he took home which is still a few hundred dollars short. So he has to find something quicker to make some money and that came in the form of something that he would never thought twice to get himself into. Stripping. He heard about a well-hidden strip joint that often has the best male and female strippers from all over and they occasionally have an open stripper night every month which one is coming up very soon. Knowing that time isn't on his side, he sucks it all up and takes on the offer but to prevent some of the onlookers from noticing him too much. Before he could make his debut he needed something to hide so much of his body that he wouldn't be too conspicuous. Very easily he made one out of some special body paint and a mask cut to let his long hair out and covers over the mask's eyes to not let any one notice his blue irises.

On the night of the show, any strippers were all alike male and female showing their stuff and getting their few dollars down their g-strings but none compare to the one they now call as "TigerStrype" The massive ringtail dons himself with his mask covering his whole face with his long flowing blonde hair out the top and back. His powerful body painted with stripes of a tiger and his monstrous bulge only held up by a custom made thong speedo to show off more of his large glutes. Unlike all of the strippers before him, the ladies and the men were free to feel him up given the opportunity, even one lucky patron got a feel of his heavy balls each weighing twice as a bowling ball. Only taking caution to not let them rub off his stripes and not let all the touching get him hard. He started to make his moves and discovers he can handle the stripper pole better than anyone. Just like that all the patrons decide to dump their wallets at him without a second thought. Quickly he can feel his cock started to throb and begin to stretch his speedo.

TigerStrype had to leave the stage before he scares everyone with his hardon he heads for the restroom where he is free to tear free out of his speedo and let his cock stay hard for a few hours before closing time. In the end and one messy restroom later, He came back out to be introduced to a hefty sum from the stage and his participation feeling very grateful the owner of the strip joint considers him a really popular character on stage and wonder if he can offer him a position for a couple of nights. Zack did had a good time and while he didn't take the offer that quickly he'll think about it. Leaving the place with a huge wad of cash on hand it was more than enough to cover the rent for now. The next morning Zack was feeling groggy from last night and after paying off the landlord he feels a bit glad to stay in for another month. Waking up to quickly have a bowl of cereal on his couch, he decides to listen to the radio and hears news of a new clinic opening in town that also takes in blood and sperm donations with awards to up to $5000.

Moments later Zack showed up in front of the receptionist of the new clinic and the look on her face made her jaw drop nearly from looking at the size of his bulge. He wasn't feeling in the mood to please and wanted to get it over with. After a quick examination, Zack squeezes himself through the tight doorway of his private room with a stack of select bodybuilder magazines and porn to help get him off. He nearly felt embarrassed when the nurse gave him a tiny cup to deposit in. It was a thimble compared to the size of his own hand but he had to work with what he got and closes the door. An hour later the nurse came to check up on Zack after hearing a really loud groan and splatter he finally finished himself off. Coming out of the room he handed the nurse the small cup filled to the top and can leave to collect. That is until he told her that they hope they don't mind using the trash bags he found as he walked out. The nurse looked into the room and fainted at the sight of over 70 large trash bags filled with his seed.

The doctors didn't know about the bag filled room because they were highly impressed with the overall health and quality of his semen that is nothing like they ever seen before and proudly paid him twice then what they can. This really made Zack happy and hopes he could do it again next time and can let them have the rest of his seed for free. Zack felt a bit more useful after that little strip show and his massive donation in which helped him build a really big nest egg for the future. Zack took another look at that mask and feels that the job at the newsstand doesn't give him enough action and decides to make the call to the strip joint and make him the attraction strictly for the weekends. There's really no shame in him flaunting his body before but this time he can earn real money while doing it can also help to have fun as well.

Fast forward fifty years into the future and the town is swamped with really big, muscle-bound and heavily-endowed men and women roaming the streets, interacting, shopping for only custom-made clothes and having the strange urge to pump serious iron regardless of species. The one thing in common with all of these giant hunks and babes is that they all came from mothers who asked for the extremely high-quality sperm from specimen #8804 which resulted in having really big kids no one knows who was the cause of all this except for the big ringtail himself.
