

David the Mew sat reading when he caught the familiar scent of roses he recalled from a certain potion, his head jerking up expecting to see a horny, over pregnant Eevee, but was instead greeted by the sight of his wife, who was clearly in heat, and he knew why. He also knew he couldn't explain to her why without getting in some serious trouble.

Though instead he went for something else "April... Why do I smell that scent from you?" he wondered to her with a raised eyebrow, trying to act as if he knew nothing of what was going on. And prays silently to the legendary that she is not accusing him of anything.

She pounced on him, and many lewd noises would follow.

Elsewhere Sakura was being helped down the road by May.

"Don't worry." The spot for the carriage for Falkreath is not much further. Then we can relax there and only hope nobody tries to attack us." Sakura groaned a bit in response as she shifted in her seat.

"Good I don't know if I could be asked to fight in this state, they got a lot heavier in the last few days" she held her belly with a paw.

"Well, why did you decide to even travel while pregnant and don't simply wait until your children are born?" Wonderer May and then scratches behind her ear "And why did you had to take David for hours to fuck, despite him having work?"

"Don't act like you wouldn't steal him from April if you had the chance" she purred as she leaned into the ear scratching "besides you two are fantastic lovers, it's clear to see who Simon got his talents from, if I didn't know better, I would have guessed he was your son not April's."

"As much as I would love to make that claim... it would be a lie. And I don't hide from you that I would love to have him as a mate... but I am not sure if April would be so understanding that I fell for the same male as she did."

"You could still try to have his child, like..." she patted her belly with a naughty smirk "well you already know my potion experiment work yeah?"

"I do... but for one I am not pregnant to hide a second child in. And another, I do not want to have a stranger to be my first male." Then she stopped "unless... you suggest..."

Sakura cut the young Weavile off with a soft kiss as the wagon they were in rocked, Sakura didn't miss how May affectionately stroked her round belly the possibilities it held, though she knew the thoughts May was about voice, as taboo as they were.

She sighs lewdly and mused "that will piss April off, you know that?"

"I know, but it's a chance thing" she winks and kissed her female lover softly. The rocking of the cart began to rock more.

She sighed and wondered "do you think David and April finally get to have their time together while I will be gone?"

"I hope so, she looked like she needed a break from it all. Maybe they will have some fun while they don't have to worry about interruptions" the Eevee chuckled and rubbed May's back "and I feel you will enjoy having me to yourself for a few days" she coos.

"If we find a nice corner where we can do it without getting awkward gazes or interruptions" she giggled and stroked the Eevee over the cheek with a smile.

She chuckled "the next potion I make will be one to let 2 females make a child" she purred and kissed May on the lips.

"That is really something" she laughed loudly and shook her head in disbelief "Anyway, I am curious: How do you plan to convince him for this little bit you have in mind?"

She lifted a paw, stroked May's cheek, and sighed softly "I can think of a few ways" then her gaze got softer as an image of a pregnant May came to mind and she purred, leaning in she kissed the Weavile. The kiss got rather long and lewd as tongues danced and curled together only to slide apart as Sakura purred out "you would look beautiful with my child inside you."

Lifting May's hand and pressing it to her swollen pregnancy she added "or yours in me~" The 2 giggled a little while at that then cuddled up for the rest of the wagon ride "in the future perhaps".

"Yeah... for now we got a target to take off" giggled the Weavile and then went for a deep kiss to hold it as long as it was possible...

TALES OF EEVEE

It was getting dark as the carriage reached the outside of Falkreath and May helped Sakura down from it and mused "So... how do we handle the surprise for my nephew?"

"He hasn't seen you since before you evolved, correct?"

Sakura said as she seemed to have the expression that she was making a devious plan.

"That's true" the Weavile answered and was now a bit nervous. What is now going on in the head of this naughty Eevee?

"So, let's see how long it takes for him to figure out who you are," she said with a wide grin.

"Well, let's see how it goes " she nods to her very close friend and the two head to Simon's home, where they saw the lights were on... and no loud noise to be heard.

"This is... odd" Sakura said as they approached, noting how oddly silent it was.

As they reached the door, May looked at first through one of the windows and chuckled "No wonder. Eliza and a few girls I don't recognize are busy playing cards. And in the near I see a few sleeping babies... but no Simon in sight ".

"Let's go to the inn, then and come back in the morning, I don't want to cause a commotion with children so near" she placed a paw on May's shoulder.

"Commotion?" she asks, "I thought they knew you... or am I missing something?" she wondered in slight confusion.

"They do but I would rather not be a bother and interrupt their game."

"Then how about we check out if Simon is at his brothel?" she suggested.

She tilted her head in thought and nodded to the spell weaving Weavile "alright that's a good idea" and they moved to head towards the place which was once known to be one of the hideouts of the Dark Brotherhood... now known as Sanguines Pleasure.

The two reached the entrance and the guard looked at the Eevee "I will not stop you... but I have to tell you that you are not allowed to take any of the potions or alcoholic drinks within the establishment."

They nodded and placed their things in a nearby secure chest to get on the way out. "Ladies first" Sakura motioned for May to go first.

"Aren't you female as well?" she countered as they moved in... and it was a normal busy day there. When talking, females and males take their partners to the rooms. Dancers showing their bodies and drinks moving around at a nice pace while the servers are showing their bodies.

May mused "Want to watch and drink first or ask for Simon directly?"

"You can watch I need to find Simon and sort out something first we can both enjoy" she kissed May and headed off into the crowd. May nodded to her and took a seat and asked for an ale while waiting for Sakura's return.

She returns not moments later and motioned to the side of the room "This way, he wants us to have a bit of fun before we meet him proper".

"His words or your interpretation?" wondered May in curiosity. while standing up and moving towards Sakura.

"His, he said to enjoy some of what the place has to offer while he is busy."

She pulled May into a darkened room, the sounds of pleasure and sex clear in the dark room, Sakura clearly could see but May was unable, being pushed into what could only be described as a harem the Weavile felt a strong male at the middle and the scent of sex and after a moment Sakura's own moans setting the Weavile into a heated lust.

"Where... are we?" she asked Sakura, while she couldn't help but finger herself between the legs and started to move towards the male, she was sensing... wondering who it would be.

"Pleasure room one, a male is assigned to service all the females who come in, no matter what, no matter the risk" she whispered as she pressed her chest and belly to May's back and kissed the Weavile's neck. "While we wait for Him to get free, let's indulge here for a bit, clear our minds for the meeting" her whisper was soft and sweet as if to a lover. Her fingers played at May's folds as she guided the shirted female forward to the bed where the man was resting between other women.

"I thought... we agreed on who takes me first" she whispered back with a deep shiver, slightly nervous now that she is really approaching a male with this intention. Even if it is more Sakura's intention than her own.

"We both know I already took you first~" she purred and rubbed May's flat firm abs. "Would you like a potion to forget what happened later" she teased "not that I have figured out how to make such a one yet" she lifted her up as they near the faint black outline of the bed in the dark room, at least 3 other women were on the bed with this male.

"I mean male" she hissed slightly and looked at the male, taking a deep breath and tried to at least determine the species of this male. As she slowly moved forward the bed and started to climb on it. Feeling the leg of the man she recognizes the feel of a Sneasel's fur, though their kind was very common in the cold of Skyrim.

Sakura purred softly "true, but for now let's pretend this is him, I even prepared a special potion for the event this could happen" the woman now sounded so salutary in her female lover's ear as she turned her and kissed May passionately and moaned softly as the Weavile lifted her hands to touch the round pregnant belly of the thick Eevee.

May kissed back and had the suspicions that the normal type is only kissing her now to apply the mentioned potion to her, while two of the females on the bed moved to feel over the Weavile body, murring loudly as they realized what kind of curves the Weavile is offering to their shared partner right now.

The potion slipped from the Eevee's maw to the weevil's and her body felt warm from tongue to foot claw as many touched her body she felt some form of pleasure, she slid back and her folds were soon dripping down onto the male on the bed, her panting and moans as her lady lover made out with her soon overpowering the room, Sakura herself also purring in pleasure, though not as much having long since started building a slow resistance to her own potions.

A loud murr came from the male as he spoke "Looks like somebody is extra eager~" and took hold of her hips "How do you like your part of this little party here?" and rubs the hips more while the male gets up and rubs his pride between the Weavile buttchecks. Some part of May's mind was registering something familiar regarding the male. But the parts that are taken over her lust are stronger at this point and moved her hips and she groaned "Do as you wish~" and as answer she felt the Sneasel hands on her breast. Feeling them.

Her lust overcame her as something only a male could do came to her and she let out a beautiful purr, her hips rubbing back against his pride as her Eevee lover pressed closer to her front. Their breasts press together in the dark of the room kissing like lovers as the Sneasel pumps his hips against her ass.

Then the Sneasel bites her into the neck slowly as he grew excited as he felt the pressing breasts of the two females, his pride rubbing even more against her ass, teasing the Weavile as he grew eager to take her... while the evolved Pokémon was feeling her wetness grew warm.

May's mine was so lusted by the heat of the moment and the potion from Sakura she pushed free of the Eevee's lips long enough to moan out; "Take me now" before the Eevee kissed again far more passionately than before. The Eevee sliding her paws up and sliding under May, her legs wrap the Sneasel's legs and May's as the 2 women make out hotly, the man could just make them out in the dark, their pussies slick, soaking, and needy.

Groaning, the Sneasel tried to lift the Weavile up with his hands to position her pussy above his pride so he could lower it on him. Though the making out with the Eevee made it easier said than done as there was a lack of cooperation on that part now.

Not helping was also that the other girls were either watching or sleeping off from the tiredness of their own rounds. He found that Sakura must have felt him trying to move May as she shifted swiftly and pushed May up enough to help him with his goal. Taking that, he soon lowered her, and his pride was spreading her hole... making him shiver as he felt the warm fluids of the female as he moved her down.

May groaned as she felt the dick and was shivering from this experience though it soon stopped moving... the Sneasel reached a certain spot and asked surprised "A virgin?" "With men~" Sakura coos out as she groped and pleased the Weavile who was pinned the Sneasel's chest, their bodies hot against him as the Eevee pulled May down softly intent on having him claim her first time.

May let out a groan and purred like a cat as her pussy was spread, only flinching as Sakura pulled her down and May's virginity was taken by the Eevee and the Sneasel she didn't even know the name of.

May shrieked as her hymen was pierced and her walls clenched once hard due to the pain she felt at this moment. However, as she moved on his hips to move on his pride the pain was slowly subduing and replaced with pleasure, which she could only shiver to and groaned into a kiss with Sakura, who pushed her tongue into May's mouth to keep it occupied. Feeling the claws on her hips digging into her skin but didn't mind it at all as she was taken by him... thought something in her mind also tried to tell her that she knew that vice she heard earlier.

Sakura purred into the kiss, her large breasts pressed together with May's and began to leak milk, this surprise wetness combined with her lust made those thoughts of familiarity vanish again as Sakura broke the kiss and lifted her breast for May to drink from.

The Weavile took one of the breasts and raised it a bit more to suck on the nipple to taste the milk... being unaware what kind of side effect she will experience soon. The Sneasel went harder with his moves and groaned, pleased the claws scratching her some more. The scratches running through her feathers and fur to graze her skin made her shiver, her body wasn't wholly dense like her sister but a bit softer and easily marked even if her feathers and fur would hide it for now.

May moaned out loud as her body shook in pleasure and she climaxed, her pussy soaking the Sneasel's cock in her hot female juices. The Sneasel grunted himself and pulled on her hard to grope her breast even harder as a shiver ran down his spine and he started filling her with his cum as if to answer her own climax.

She shivered and hugged tight to Sakura as her pussy clenched down in the Sneasel like a vice, her body quaking. Sakura purred and kissed her lover Weavile "had enough?" The now ex-virgin Weavile moaned softly as she slowly went limp and passed out with a smile only Sakura could see in the dark of the room.

"Aww poor thing"

"Dang... I think I broke her" muttered the Male Sneasel as he looked at the limp form... or as much as he could make out in the dark.

Some hours later May would slowly come to a side room, only Sakura with her across the room mixing potions. "Ohh..." she groaned as she got up "Why do I feel so sore?" Hearing her Sakura glanced over with a smirk "your first time with a male, and he was pretty assertive from how hard you came" she purred a smile as she tossed a tonic over to the sore Weavile. "Customer records are sealed so unfortunately; we can't find out who he was."

She took a sip of the tonic and looked at him "Why do I have the feeling you already know who he is?"

"I have my guesses but unfortunately there are a good few Sneasel around here, some living in the forest, and many of them with similar builds" she sighed with a light chuckle. Then slid onto the bed with May and kissed May's abs as she slid up and pressed her bulged belly, now rounded, to May's thighs. "My triplets are getting pretty big, soon enough I will be too far along to add any more with that potion if my body hasn't already gained a resistance to the potion already."

"Are you suggesting we try and make it a quartet?" she asked, while shivering a bit "or do you have something else in mind?"

She looked at May and blushed as she nodded slightly, "I was hoping... you might be willing to try out a certain potion while I use that one again."

She absentmindedly rubbed her belly as an image of herself with 4 in her belly came to her mind.

May looked uncomfortable at the thought... as she obviously lousy imagined that she would be turned into a male... a thought she was clearly not really coming into terms at this moment. Perhaps it was also too early for this universe to think about transgenders.

"What's wrong?" Sakura asked since she wasn't a mind reader and could only tell something was offsetting May based on her expression.

"I... am not sure if I want to try that potion of yours" she stated truthfully "As the effect I imagine is... not something I don't think I want to imagine."

She chuckled "all it would do is make your feminine fluids like that of a male, did you imagine it made you a male or something?"

"Y-Yes" she nodded with a deep blush as she realized her mistake in assumption.

"Hmhm," she softly chuckled "that's why it's best to ask details before jumping into things, though that must be humorous to hear from me" she purred as she leaned in "and besides I don't even know if it will work" she kissed May softly. Who returned the kiss and then mused "Well sometimes you are not given the chance of asking for details beforehand... you practically Jumped David from what I could gather. Not even asking if he wanted to do that" and the dark type padded the stomach of the Eevee with a slight chuckle.

"You talk as if I was the one in the lead" she laughed softly "once he got going, he took control like a pent-up wild animal~"

She cooed as May stroked her swollen child filled stomach.

"I would love to try and add a 4th to this litter of offspring" she looked into May's eyes "if you don't mind going another round with me" she reached up and massaged May's breast.

She groaned but shook her head "No... I would like to keep what I have remaining for somebody specific... for a specific task" she added to her Eevee lover. Blushing deeply with a bit of a shiver.

Sakura pouted at her and huffed softly with a smile "Alright, alright I give" the Eevee mused and kissed May softly again.

May kissed back "After that, we can still try if you like." she promised her. Which made the Eevee smile and hug her as they kissed and cuddled up in bed together. They would wake back up in the afternoon that day after a good rest.

"Huh?" May asked "Where is everyone else?" she asks with a yawn. "They left before you woke before, you were just too focused on me to notice I'm guessing."

"That might be the case" she nodded "so... shall we go looking for Simon now?"

"That sounds like a good idea, we did give him a full day to get ready, though I can't say if you even realize that it's been a whole day since we got here you were so taken last night ha-ha" she giggled at her lover.

The Weavile chuckles a bit weakly while rubbing her head a little "WE should find Eliza... she might know where he is now." To which the Eevee nodded and slid from the bed and motioned to follow as they headed to the door to head into the main home area of the living space, they passed several rooms already in use "an early start for the business today, wonder if there is a special occasion" the thick female purred as she rubbed her belly with a paw.

So many eggs/babies inside the Eevee and the thought of the offer from Sakura to add to them crossed her mind briefly. Though she shook her head and stated, "properly the night guards who are now getting some relief from the night.” and keeps following the Eevee “I think she will be at the shop in town right now and not somewhere in here.”

“That’s probably correct, while I was here before I came to visit, I can’t say I kept track of all her comings and goings,” she moved to follow May. Her arm looping around the Weavile’s and she cuddled close, it was clear Sakura cared for the dark type as more than just a simple friend. When they found Eliza, Sakura gave her a hug.

Eliza gasped a bit but hugged her back “hey you.” and saw May “May? You are here too? When did you two arrive in town? If I had known, I would have prepared rooms for you.” and then notices something “And Sakura... did you have a growth spurt with your babies? You are much larger than I recall from the few weeks I last saw you.”

Sakura gave a look of mock insult “are you suggesting I gained weight?” Her tone was just barely enough to tell it was sarcasm... barely.

“Natural part of being pregnant” she shrugged “Just more than I thought to see on you.” chuckling loudly.

“Well, it’s nice to know you appreciate it in some way” she stuck her tongue out playfully as she rubbed her belly.

The Mawile giggled and then mused “So, how can I help you two?”

“We are looking for Simon. Do you know where he is?”

“Not exactly” admitted Eliza “Simon teamed up with a few other hunters to hunt down a number of bears that have been moving too close to the villages.”

Sakura huffed softly “well that throws a wrench into things.”

Turning to May “how long did even plan to stay for?” Clearly worried she would have to miss seeing her nephew.

“A week perhaps... I cannot stay before having to go back before my leave ends.” she explained to Sakura.

Eliza was mentally counting something and mused “Given the reports and Simon's tendencies... I would say three days he is back. Of course, you can go to the Sactu Hut that is in the forest. Simon often goes there to spend the night between hunting targets. Often, he has company there. Including a Mienshao whose name he never learned.”

“That doesn’t surprise me” Sakura mused as she kissed Eliza softly before moving back over to May “I will just show her around a little but then the next few days if she doesn’t already know her way around.

“Did anything big change during my last visit?” asks the Weavile simply but Eliza only shocks her head “Only a few changes in family, nothing more.”

"Well then I'm at a loss for what to do with the day" Sakura shrugged as she stood next to the Mawile "unless you would like to join us for dinner tonight. I'm sure you would love to hear about how my visit with April went" with a giggle "the parts May wasn't around for?" She mused.

"Sure, why not?" she agreed with her, "Let's go then."

With a cheery mewling tone Sakura cheered and took the 2 females in arm and tried to trot back to the home though with a belly carrying 3 she wasn't very fast.

"Just one thing Sakura..." mused Eliza "do you have any plans for helping support the family? Because it will start to get tight with you included in the household."

"Oh, you don't have to worry about me, I always earn my keep, though I may have to go out on a job in the next few weeks, my true boss needs some business dealt with in another land" she flipped a coin she pulled out of seemingly nothingness and flipped it, catching it with a smirk.

"While you are overly pregnant?" countered the Mawile with a raised eyebrow and tilts his head.

She looked down at her body and then back to Eliza "Yes, and?"
She cocks her head "can other females not work while they are full of babies?"

"Depends on what kind of work... and from what I know from you, your work involves lots of fights."

She tilted her head and pondered "well I wouldn't say lots, and I'm a chemist er... alchemist, first. Lover second, fighter third" she grins as her hand patted her bulged belly. "Might have room for one more in here too I think" she winked in May's direction with a flirty smirk.

"And which lucky ma-" she stopped and groaned "Are you trying to make me a father?"

Sakura giggled "I'm not giving up on the thought, no"

The Mawile stepped back a little as this thought was a bit uncomfortable for her "I am... not sure..."

Sakura laughed "I meant May, not you are dear, though I was pretty sure you knew I had interests in both genders."

"I do enjoy some female company from time to time... but having a child with a female never crossed my mind."

"It's a non-point at current. Let's just get home for dinner, these 3 in my belly are all hungry" she chirped.

"Let's go to the kitchen" she said simply.

TALES OF EEVEE

Accidents happened that night they had dinner together, after showing off her potions and alcohols to them both Sakura served dinner a dish from her hometown, Eliza having grabbed the wrong bottle from Sakura's collection downed the potion she was hoping to share with May to make a child. Not knowing this the 3 ended up in bed before they finished the meal, Eliza unnaturally horny and lewd with the 2.

Sakura moaned as the Mawile fingered her soft folds "b-but I thought you were strictly straight?!" She moaned not resisting.

May who be tipsy from a different kind of drink, a juice that mimicked alcohol but was non-alcoholic. Only giggled and kissed the Eevee. While the Mawile was now going to lick and eat the pregnant normal type out, her hands firmly holding her legs apart for better access.

Sakura's train of thought instantly derailed as her crush kissed her, her thick, soft thighs relaxing into the grip of the Mawile as she tasted the mother to be, the Weavile treating herself to the Eevee's lips and tongue.

May murred loudly and grabbed one of the breasts of the Eevee as she kissed her pushing the tongue in. Sakura eager to return the love as they fell to her bed, unable to manage both women at once Sakura could only go along with both and this lust not knowing what the resulting consequences would be in the coming morning.

It wasn't long before May was sitting on the face of Sakura while Eliza was pressing her folds against the normal types, groaning as those sensitive spots were rubbing against each other.

Sakura purred and her tongue, long and curling, explored into May's folds and passage. Her breasts leaked milk some from her perky nipples as her thighs hugged the one giving her folds pleasure, even if she would rather it have been May, she still enjoyed the 'straight' female's surprise lust.

The Weavile was groaning madly in her half-drunk state and shivered as she lowered herself even more into the Eevee's face, her tongue hanging out in pleasure and one of the hands reached down to grope one of the milks filled orbs hard.

Milk spurted from her nipples as the dark type toyed with her lover's tits, Eliza manning as their pussies pushed firmly together and scissor lovingly and lustfully. Even as they climax on the Eevee they don't stop and seek more pleasure from the curvy mother. None noticed Sakura's pregnant belly swelling larger with a new addition to the womb.

Though soon they were sleeping together, snuggling together and the bed full of their juices... and in dire need of cleaning.

Sakura woke, her stomach heavy, she needed to shift position, turning to her side she found the 2 from the night before. She would have shot up right if she didn't have the weight holding and slowing her vertical movements. She slid back to sit against the wall. The bed was pushed too and rested growing softly to not wake the 2 other women, she looked down and could tell she got bigger again, there was a new child in her. Looking over to her box she kept her 'potions' in she saw an empty drinking glass and the bottle she had her special potion in was empty next to it.

'Shit' she thought to herself and looked down, unsure what to do, as there were 50-50 odds for either of them to have been the one to have added to her womb. She stroked her stomach and thought about it carefully, as depending on who it was could have 2 very different outcomes, especially since May was considering the idea but Eliza.... She had no idea how the originally hard-line straight female would take to having a child with another woman... but then she didn't seem to mind her husband doing so...

She looked to the door as she thought and froze as she saw Simon standing there with an arrogant grin on his dumb face.

"You three really went all out," the Sneasel comments, looking at the mess he is finding her and the other two girls in.

"Well, they caught me off guard and one or both got into my lust potions" she gave a half-truth till she could sort the situation out more. Having carefully slipped off the bed she moved to greet him with a kiss, her stomach now swollen enough it was almost reaching her breasts pressed to Simon as she kissed him affectionately.

He kissed her back and his tongue twisted with hers as he felt her large stomach before breaking said kiss and mused "Well... how many do you have now from then thanks to that?"

"Hm what do you mean~?" She asked in a cooing voice, she was pretty sure he didn't know about her special potions, then remembered her babies from him were twins because of a potion in the first place.

"O-oh, ahem I think maybe 4, but who could say who the fathers are" she gave a convincing shrug as he stroked her belly.

"You like how big it made me I see."

She glanced over his shoulder when something behind him moved, and she noticed a Lucario in ranger's gear, and from the canines glances their way she mused "is she a new~... 'friend'?" Putting a lewd twist on the word.

"In a sense" he stated, ignoring for now the way she means it and pressed on the way the term would normally mean "Though it's a friendship with benefits" he added and looked down "Who did you mate with in this week to get that many that big?" slightly disturbed that she's not only pregnant with four now... but that she looks like all four were made at the same time. His senses scream that without a Daedra messing around, that should be impossible.

"Well only 2 I think managed to get lucky" she mused "I'm just surprised my potion mix sped up the growth of the new additions. I could have sworn it was just supposed to slow the oldest ones down" she shrugged, maybe it's because it's a different re- em, a different place from where I first made them."

He still looks a bit uncomfortable at this explanation and shakes his head "Next time... cut those please... I am really weird out here." he admits to her.

"Well, it's not like the 2 new additions were planned, at least one definitely wasn't" she muttered in the last part and watched the Lucario. "So does she have a name?" She asked him as she watched the canine behind Simon sniff around the place, not missing how she was pulling at her pants.

"Her name is Laura" and looks back at her "What are you thinking now?" raising an eyebrow, while wondering why Laura is sniffing like that... or playing with the pants.

"Did you use any of those 'healing potions' on her?" Trying to remind him one of those potions was a sexual one she made for him. It was her turn to be perturbed.

"No... she didn't need one of those" he stated to her with a shaking head, confused by this. She wanted the Lucario to drink a green potion from the assortment Sakura set out for the pleasure house, she opened her mouth giving a look behind Simone then sighed and shook her head. "Never mind, it's my imagination."

The Lucario Laura had just drank a fertility potion thinking it was a stamina potion, she cleaned her maw on her sleeve, and cocked her head "weird flavour for a stamina potion" she stuck her tongue out and tossed the bottle to the table, now intent to stick to main line potions and not others home brewed ones. She looked at Simon and the Eevee she heard about, her body was very curvy, and her belly was bigger than some of the rumours she heard. Having adjusted her pants and armour again she moved to greet them. She failed to notice her chiselled abs were now almost unnoticeably bumping out now.

"Is this the Eevee I heard of?" She asked them both, her tone was a little gruff fritting a female ranger.

"Yes... and why did you need a Stamina potion now?" he asked her in some loss at the sight.

She flinched "you saw that?" Glancing at Sakura she sheepishly admitted "Well we did fuck like rabbits this morning, so I was still a bit drained" she blushed not making eye contact."

Sakura laughed at her response "yeah, I can level with her in that, you do tend to take it out of women, not many guys can go as long as Simon I think."

He blushes heavily "Well... uhm..." not sure what to answer now, except for simply accepting it is like that.

and Sakura sighed "well I should let you know in a few days I need to return to my boss; my free time is up, and I will need to run a mission if I'm to stay employed, shouldn't be more than a few months" she said softly and moved to look over the Lucario female.

"And the children?" he asked her in surprise.

"Have no worry, dearest male, I won't let them be harmed, though I am unsure if I will be back to give birth to them so I may be coming back with them post birth" she mused.

Then slipping over to the Lucario female she cooed “as for you, guard my beloved Weavile there” she slipped a rather good sum of coin into the ranger Lucario’s open paw. “And I will make sure you are rewarded appropriately on my return.

The Lucario flinched at the small but hefty coin purse she was just given and looked at the Eevee who was coiled around her like a demon. “Wh-why hire me?”

“Because I can tell a person has honour and will hold to a contract of hire, no matter what” she mused and suddenly in front of Simon kissed the Lucario.

The Lucario flinched again and went to pull away but stopped and her eyes softly lowered and slowly started to close. Simon didn’t need to be an expert to see Sakura, just helped the Lucario discover she could swing both ways.

Simon sighs and rubs the back of his head “Well at least this will give us time to prepare properly...” and then looks at his aunt “When do you plan to return to Solitude?”

“Within a few days” admits the Weavile with a small smile “I have my duties after all.” Thought I like to spend a bit of time with you guys... in more than one way” he chuckles.

Simon sighs and shakes his head before stating “Well... perhaps you can go with Raven. He and a few people show up in a few days. Got a letter just as I got here. seems the old Zangoose got a mate full time now and wants to pick up Pactorn to raise him.”

Eliza looks at Simon in surprise “That was surprisingly soon... I would have thought he would take another year or two before deciding to take care of his son personally.”

“So many surprises in one week,” Sakura laughed. “So, who did he take as a mate?”

“A Luxray named Lycra... I heard of her. Lives in Solitude and runs a good blacksmith.” stated Simon “And he comes with a Persian and a... hybrid of Umbreon and Zangoose if I read it right.”

“Ah I think I know of one of those people, the hybrid is a daughter of a friend of mine” Sakura chimed in as she was busy fingering the female Lucario, the canines’ abs flexed as she was being played with, for some reason she seemed unable to resist the thick milf’s skills.

“Oh? What is her name?” wondered Simon “So I am a bit forewarned. given what kind of people you tend to be friends with.”

“Bree” she said with a smirk “if I’m not wrong you bred her once too, though no child came from it back then.”

“Bree? She is an Umbreon. Not a hybrid.” he stated to her.

She nodded “that’s correct, though I think her father was a Houndoom, a huge male.

She mused “her family had such beautiful looks, it’s like they don’t age.”

he tilts his head at this bit and rubs his head. “Uhm... let me try again: Who is this hybrid Raven is traveling with?”

"I'm- ooo~ not sure~" she moaned as now both May and the Lucario Laura were showing their affection for the Eevee,

"Should I leave you three alone?" asks Simon.

Sakura purred and pulled him over into her arms, his face pushed into her soft chest "I would rather you join us, if it's ok with them~"

She glanced to the Lucario then eyed May "he is your nephew though so I will understand if you rather sit out love."

"I think it is an interesting experience" she giggled loudly and licked her lips in anticipation. Simon did recognize that and blushed "Uhm... I... I... never had that many at once" he admits to them.

"First time for everything my little lover" Sakura mused as the 3 women took him into a bedroom.

TALES OF EEVEE

Sakura left the next week to handle business with her employer; she wouldn't be gone long; she promised Simon, May, and May's new bodyguard Laura the Lucario Ranger.

Some months of relative quiet came while she was gone... least until Simon got word his mother April was pregnant. Then word came that May and even her bodyguard were pregnant, he made sure they used his herbs to prevent pregnancy when he had that beautiful night with them all, so he could only wonder who's they carried not knowing that they were already pregnant before that night.

When Sakura finally returned and everyone gathered at Simon's to welcome the mother back, she surprised them all, her chest got bigger and was now leaking milk, her belly was so big with 4 inside that she looked like a fertility goddess. May who be pregnant with twins was showing her size well enough, Laura was presenting her bumped and rounded stomach.

"Well, this is fun" the Eevee laughed as the lovers were all pregnant save for Eliza herself, April who attended looked at the Mawile jealousy as she touched her stomach a bit bigger than Laura's, Sakura didn't doubt she was annoyed at David's luck in impregnating her.

David himself was there and looked at his son and back at the girls and stated "To be honest... At this point I was pretty sure Eliza would be expecting as well."

Eliza just blushes "Well... I think handling two children was enough, given Raven originally gave Pactorn to our care until he suddenly found a mate and changed his mind."

"By now it's three mates" corrected the Mew "His other two companions dropped the bombshell of wanting to be his mates as well once in Solitude... in public. Nearly got them all arrested for the lewd actions."

Sakura groaned and moved to sit down, despite her energy she found her weight getting to her, before she simply had the more attractive curves among the women but now, she had a belly with 4 that drained her. She huffed a sigh as she rubbed her stomach looking at April and Laura "I don't know whether to be happy and jealous you 2 only are having one each."

April raised her eyebrow "As far I know, I have only one child in me.... OR do I have to know something about my latest pregnancy?" while narrowing her eyes slightly as she moved closer with a small scowl.

The Lucario, on the other hand, was not commenting on that, while Simon just chuckled, "Well, you did ask for this." while wrapping an arm around her while giving her a kiss.

Sakura lifted her paws "I don't know anything on what happened there."

The group laughed and things got festive before they got sexual with Sakura showing off her new potions and explosives, the latter leading to the creation of a new hole in the wall. David and April get their own room to have their fun as Simon gets carried away with May and Laura the Lucario.

Eliza and Sakura were left together and drunk on lust, Sakura moaned while the Mawile played with her thick curves and soft pussy folds. Sakura didn't have a chance when it came to Eliza's skills in bed, the self-proclaimed straight female seemed to know a lot about how to play with other women. Eliza's luck ran out this time, with the potions plucked at almost random from Sakura's stash after she fully restocked, this time by morning Eliza would be impregnated by Sakura, neither would know this till her belly would start to show.

The family is meeting in the inn, as the house of Simon and Eliza was quite too small for everybody... the Sneasel had groaned already; at some point he had to find a new spot to build a new home with the right size. Unaware of the next growth would be.

Sakura blushed as Simon went on about needing a new home, may leaning into Sakura's side, the Eevee was always happy when May got cuddly though it almost made her miss Simon's words. "Um why not just expand on the current house, I'm sure they won't mind if you extend into the woods a bit, or make some tunnels to the ... er... love inn?"

"The area belongs to the Jarl." stated Simon "I had to buy it from him but last time I wanted to buy it I had to kill a witch cove by myself. Not a fun thing even if you know ambush tactics."

"I remember. He lost nearly an eye by that" nodded Eliza in confirmation.

"Then we could tunnel to the Business and make rooms in the tunnels, like in underground home, would help as refuge too should the town be attacked" Sakura posed.

"We already have a tunnel." laughs Simon "But we never went to extend rooms much. Mostly because we lack the resources to properly do that."

"I can call in Favors if needed and you already saw what some of my 'weapon potions' can do. It should be easy as long as we brace the tunnels to avoid any collapses."

"Well, we can go and make an order at the woodworks" mused David while taking a sip of his drink and rubbing his chin "For the rest I know somebody who can make the furniture."

"A sound plan" May purred as she sipped her drink, her belly rubbing the edge of the table. Sakura was etching out notes on a piece of paper, using her belly as a table "anything else?" She asked as she started to also doodle a floor plan.

"A couple of extra doors... or prevent... any "accidents" with the kids or customers on the other end."

"And locks for my potions storage and workshop for obvious reasons" Sakura nodded as she glanced at Eliza and Simon "what else?"

Simon and Eliza discussed it a little and then only shrugs "Babysitters."

"Well, I can't MAKE those, but I can keep costs down enough so we can afford them after" she nodded and looked up, finding everyone else not contributing had left, mainly May, Laura, David, and April. "Hmm maybe we can move this chat elsewhere?"

"Like where?" asks Simon in curiosity.

"The love inn" she winks.

Her answer made Eliza blush as she remembered the night before though Sakura didn't remember much of it.

In contrast to her suggestion, Simon found himself with Sakura as she etched on the walls of the cave places they could add rooms, showing where she had made things in her floor plan and making changes at Simon's request.

He nodded to her with many suggestions. He also pointed out that some spots don't work as they know that some nasty stuffs are hiding either in some places or risk having either Frost Spiders or worse Falmer then in their tunnels. Sakura gets the usual confused look when creatures are mentioned before remembering what they were, as if she had a bestiary in her head she had to sort through.

"Well of that's all I can contact the relevant people to start work in a few weeks" she patted small beach ball belly "we got a bit of time."

"Know anybody who can ensure that no underground, insects and Falmer will bother us by tunnelling down to us?"

"That I can do, I know a few people who can-... who have spells that can, harden the walls and keep outside forces from tunnelling in."

She rubbed her belly, "this will be quality work, I want these 4 growing up safe in this realm".

When will you most likely give birth to them, by the way?" wondered Simon to his normal type of girl "because I am pretty sure you are either going to do it soon... or you cannot move at all anymore due to your extra weight."

"I'm barely past halfway" Sakura chuckled with a nervous look "there are 4 after all, and if you were to add any, the new potion I made actually slows down the current progression till the new addition catches up" she always seemed excited when explains her potions effects.

Simon looks at her "I am forbidding you to take any of those potions until you give birth and have recovered from it. because as this looks like that will be one hell of a birth moment. Not even Eliza was that big when she was in the 9th month with our single child."

She laughed and stroked her belly "well that's because I have 4 in here now, not 1, and we know for sure 2 of them are your fault".

"The other two are more your fault than the fathers' ones" mused the Sneasel with a grin with a chuckle "After all, it was your potions that caused half of the problem~" and winked her.

She mused and smirked back "then should I live up to the standard you show and claim the ones who added to my belly if you're going to claim me?" She purred as she twisted the situation some.

"I don't drink or make others drink potions that impregnate a girl with my children than they already have." he pointed out with amusement.

She stuck her tongue out at him "you're still the one who started this" she teased back.
"Potions don't work unless ya sex each other up."
She moved close and kissed him.

"It was still your decision to have sex with them." he countered and kissed her back, feeling her back gently.

"Are you sure you don't want to see me carrying more? I think I have enough to make 2 more potions~" she purred, her stomach rubbing him as they began to kiss and make out in front of Eliza who Sakura looked at with interested eyes.
