

Some weeks had passed since Sakura arrived and stayed with Simon, she fit in with the town, helping as a mercenary when the guards needed a hand... er... paw, with bandits or the like. The odd question of her age kept popping up but being skirted around though it didn't seem to stop Simon from getting in bed with her one bit, especially once her stomach started to bump with signs of pregnancy.

Eliza mused to the stomach and mused "It looks like you are expecting really well now" she mused "Going to raise the little one alone or going to ask Simon to be mates with you?"

"It won't matter to me, I leave the choice to him, but I am late going to see April and her sister, maybe tomorrow, I still need to get her gift ready."

She seemed all excited to see her old friend.

"Ooooh she is going to love it"

Her large breasts bounced in her nakedness, having seemed not to gather with clothes when there were no 'outsiders' around.

She hugged an arm around the Mawile and kissed her casually, not for the first time as she found Eliza to be as good a lover as Simon in her own ways.

"Excuse me as I go get ready" her hips swayed as she skipped to her room.

Merida, the red furred Meowstic, looked at her and blinked "I am somehow feeling she is a bit unhappy that I refused her tries to have time with me."

Sakura was out of range of hearing already and unable to hear the woes of the other mon. The Meowstic shrugs, "Well, I am manning the shop now." she stated to her friend "Simon I think is leaving for his hunts soon... and what will you do?"

"I'm going to check the books. To ensure that nothing is missing." was the Mawiles reply "And spend time with the boys."

Sakura purred from her room, drawing some eyes her way as they caught scents of her mixing something. Before a low moan came from her room, it seemed Simon had been hiding in wait for her.

"Why are you three not in a three-way mateship?" asks the psychic type in confusion. To which the steel/fairy could only shrug a little in helplessness as she wasn't sure either of that.

Sakura moaned from the room as they heard Simon take her in some new way. Her moans almost begging to get impregnated by him again though that would be a trick since she was already pregnant.

The Sneasel wasn't complaining though at this, just continuing to take her eagerly, groaning pleased. Making no secret that he greatly enjoys taking that older Eevee with a deep shiver.

They could hear her moans as the friend of his mother Sakura purred like a feral fox and seemed to very much love having the younger male Sneasel take her so often. Her claws scratched deep into his skin as she climaxed for the second time that day. Which was followed shortly with him filling her womb again with his seed.

Panting loudly, he looked into her eyes and kissed her lips deeply. A kiss she returned, and they held it for a while before breaking it. "I take you leave for Solitude today to see my mother? Or do you meet elsewhere?"

"That's correct" she purred and basked in the warmth that filled her spread occupied womb. "Guess you don't want to face your mother when I tell her YOU are the one who impregnated me~?" She teased him, her fluffy tail swaying between her legs and flicked up to pat his ass playfully to emphasize her last word.

She looked as young as Simon's mate yet was old as if not older than his own mother, her youthful looks she was evasive and unwilling to explain. In fact, she even seemed to somehow redirect several conversations around into stories of Simon's adventures and how he and his mated Mawile met. Though as her stomach began to show the Eevee had been getting more affectionate with Simon and to some degree Eliza too to the point, she almost talked Eliza into getting pregnant again.

Though Eliza wants first to have her child at a certain age before considering having one more offspring. Not to mention that each month they have to feed, they have to work more... something where they have limits within Skyrim. Simon laughed weakly "Well... that... and I am not sure how long I can stay off work any longer before the cash you helped to get in is used up. I like to provide my family with what they need. Be it by making it myself or earn the money for it."

Her soft folds hugged his member as she purred, "no need to worry on me, I'm more than self-sufficient" an amused smirk flitted over her lips.

"Oh, that I never doubted. But you know what I mean." he said to her with an amused chuckle "So going to get ready?" and raised up a hand to stroke her cheek gently.

She leaned down and kissed him softly. Her stomach pressing to him, when the soft kiss ended, she leaned up and whispered "yes"

"Have fun then" he smiled at her with a smile and let go of her.

She says her hips as she trots out and rubbed her belly as she called back "with your mother, I always have fun" the thicc Eevee used her bushy tail to flick the door closed behind her as she got ready in the dressing room.

She was then soon ready to go and went for her ride towards Solitude. The ride itself was surprisingly uneventful. As she reached the town thought something was off. It seems a public execution was in the coming. Somebody deemed a traitor from the context she heard... a look at the block reveals at least she doesn't know the fella.

It didn't take long for her to find the bookstore of her friend's mate. She looked about and found him, her leather armour missing the stomach section for an obvious reason. "Hello their little mew"

"Hello Sakura" stated the blue coloured Mew as he looked up from the book he was studying at the moment. His green eyes are studying her. He looked at her and mused, "You didn't mention in your letter that you are becoming a mother. Who is the lucky guy?"

"Your son, say where is my dear April? I so wished to catch up with her" she rolled over the answer as if it wasn't even an important detail.

"With her sister at the guards training grounds" said the Mew and laughed weakly "Uhm... did I hear it right... SIMON of all people impregnated you? I thought he is mated with Eliza? OR is he going to the root of his grandfather?"

"Ah good I will head there then, and who knows" she rubbed her belly as she moved closer to her old friend and whispered "would it be so bad?"

"Well... I am not sure how April would react to that" he admits honestly.

"I do, and I will find it funny" she gently patted his crotch and looked around his library "this came out nicely." She had not changed since she met him years ago, still flippant and always shifting mindsets, an enigma at times and predictable at others.

"You know I found a potion that can put a female in heat, even when she is pregnant, I wonder if the books I used are in here?"

"The books you left me for storage are at my home. Here somebody would have found and tried to buy them." he deadpans simply "And I am not certain I want to see you in heat in your current state" he also admitted to her. "Oh and try not to kill the Talmor who are going to come in a few minutes."

She sighed and moved to one of the rows of books to watch the show. The Talmor came in and the mew lowered his book "Can I help you?"

"Mister David the Knower. We are putting you under arrest for aiding that traitor Lorkhan to remove our right of Divinity and to place yourself as Gods, despite being of mortal flesh. You will be tried and afterwards executed by beheading."

David put his book away and simply smiled "Your claims have a few troubles... I am not old enough for this claim. I have told often enough and delivered even the evidence that I was born just shortly before the re awakening of the Ash blight in the 3rd Era." he explained "The East Empire Company even noted it down in a couple of documents that survived in their headquarters. As for the claim to be a god... I never did claim that. What other members of my species say isn't of my concern."

"So, you deny the charges?" asks the Talmor with narrowed eyes

David smiles "Yes. Unless you can prove otherwise you have nothing. Of course, we can take it up to lady Asriel.... she is after all the one responsible for all decision regarding us Pokémon"

The Thalmor narrowed his eyes and began to speak but David countered "Also I never was into the Talos worship. So, you have no reason to bother me even more. Thank you very much."

The Thalmor curses under his breath and turns around and starts to leave... with his soldiers. Once he was out of the building, he shook his head "They get even more easier to mind manipulate with each adept to get me arrested for a fake court."

"Can't say I miss this about this place" she purred, and she slipped from behind the stacks, keeping her tone reserved while the agents were still leaving. She glanced at him, "well played as always, you haven't lost your touch"

"April would disagree with you" he chuckles "I stopped flirting with the female agents." and laughs and shakes his head with a smirk.

"Is that why you haven't tried to flirt with me since I got here?" She chuckled gently as she moved back over to him and leaned on him, her shoulder pressing to his as she grinned slightly.

"That and I thought it wouldn't be good, given you are pregnant. Clear sign you finally took a mate." he added to her with an amused grin.

"I can't say I'm one to stick to just one male~" her tone was teasing as she leaned more "besides I want to try that potion out, see if it works, so being pregnant actually would help in that test~" her eyes met his and she lifted an empty bottle and wagged it with a playful giggle.

"You are aware that I am still having my opening hours?" he mused to her, trying to ignore what she was suggesting... not to mention what will be soon coming to his nose.

She looked into each of his eyes as she pressed in, he found that her paw was finding its way to his pants almost sliding down inside already.

"As if that's stopped you in the past" she purred.

"My, my. You really want to seduce me" he starts to murr "Thought I wanted to keep that load for April... we are thinking of an additional child~" and his tail tickles on the underside of her tail.

"She can wait another day or 2~ can't she?" The thicc Eevee coos back at him as her odd forced heat filled the air, and she kissed him. Her potion had at the least supposedly made her go into a heat, the question was if it could let her get pregnant while pregnant. Her tail pressed down to coil with his as their lips met.

He groaned loudly and wondered in her mind "Can we at least lock the shop entrance?" as he shivered. She panted into the frisky mew males' maw before reluctantly letting him do as he asked. Once he locked the door though he turned to find the thicc female almost fully undressed behind the counter with a playful grin. "And I thought it was quick to undress," he mused, as he simply teleported... and "forgot" to use the move on his clothes as soon as he got over to her. "You really want to make April wait?" while his pride was clearly hard for her, thanks to the scent.

The youthful Eevee purred and smiled "how would she wait if she doesn't know I'm here yet?" She kissed him and pulled him in, letting his hands explore her body, she was thicker than when they last were together like this.

He returned the kiss and felt his hands were soon on her belly, being curious about the feeling of knowingly breeding a female that carries his son's child and if her potion worked, his next child too, though he doubted it.

His hands on her rounded stomach made her purr into the kiss, she clearly liked it, then she hugged her arms around his neck and tilted her head so their maw/mouths could lock into a much deeper kiss.

The kiss continued and his tongue pushed against hers while his hand was on her stomach... The other one travelled down to her womanhood to feel it slowly, to see how eager she was and to tease her a little.

Her folds were positively soaking, and dripping before she even touched her. "I think I shouldn't let you wait here" he smirked to her with a wink.

She breathes softly and very hotly as she nods, her body shifting and pressing more closely to him, her stomach bulge rubbing to him.

Though he had other plans, he quickly made her lay on his table, while spreading her legs wide as his pride rubbed on her moist hole... before plunging it deep inside her with a loud grunt.

The soaking nature of her pussy let him thrust almost to his base, before he struck her pregnant cervix, already it made her fold's passage shorter, his tip knocking on it. She groaned madly as her walls clenched and squeezed his cock.

"Ooooooh yeeeeees" her bell like voice chimed. Indeed" he grunted loudly and pounded her even more, shivering loudly "Ohh..."and thrusts even deeper and harder inside her "Yes..."

Claws scraped the table top as she moaned more, her slick walls pulse and grip more firmly, her eyes closed as she lost herself in pleasure and bliss. Her heat makes her want a womb with more children, his child. While he simply pounded her deep and hard, with the scent causing her to go deeper and harder in an attempt to breed her.

She groaned as he slapped his hips to hers, her belly jiggling with every firm thrust, her moans and mumbles all clearly wanting the potion to work. She gasped and purred "yes fuck my till I'm pregnant with your child, let me have your and your son's offspring together in me!"

"You and your odd claims," he groaned and thrust deep and hard inside her, his hands holding her legs apart, shivering in pleasure "Tight" and trusted more inside the pregnant female.

"I-I'm pregger, what did you expect?" She groaned at his observation, her walls gripped him firmly within her passage, her hands clawing at his back in pleasure. David groaned even more and continued with his deep pounding inside the normal type, his balls slapping against her with each thrust he performed. Feeling great he moved one of his hands to her breast to grope it while his tail moved in front of her mouth... to suck on it.

She did as he expected, sucking on his tail, while her folds milked him, his hand felt how full her breasts were, already so full despite how thicc she naturally was, her ass was soft as his balls slapped, her body seemed made for birthing children. Something he notes could be useful in the two pregnancies of his mate April, given how difficult the experience was for her.

But right now, he is more eager to pound into the female Eevee than thinking too complexly about his mate, groaning along the entire way and shivering.

As he shivered, she pulled him in again, hugging his waist with her thighs as she sucks once more on his tail before she pulled it out and moaning whispered in the most sultry sexual voice, "cum in me~"

This was something he didn't need to be told twice and with a loud and pleased groan he shot his cream inside her womb, shivering as he felt her walls clenching around him. The Eevee moaned as she felt his seed pouring inside her, her cervix throbbing in climax as it soaked it in, and she moaned feeling her heat slowly subside as she climaxed, though some heat remained in the back of her mind, a seasonal instinct wouldn't go away after just one time.

She purred "w-was that all" she shivered knowing he was far from the end.

"Are you joking?" he chuckles to her "Just give me a minute to catch my breath... and we will continue" he declared to her and grins as he took her as he would have taken his mate in his youth. Before long she was panting on the floor in the back of the library, the place filled with the scent of sex as he stood over her, his balls drained to the last drop.

"Nnn" she groaned "too much" she panted out, "I don't think I would have needed a potion with how much you just put out" she didn't even have the strength to sit up.

He sat on a chair and chuckled "Are you surprised given who my mate is?" while taking heavy breaths given the amount of work, he just gave to satisfy this very hungry Eevee.

The Eevee tilted her head and tried to shrug "th-that's fair, but what has m-may been up to?"

"Why asking for May?" asks David in wonder "She is the same as always, helping April with the training and keeping her temper in check."

"Did she ever evolve like she declared, or like April decided to stay first form?"

She made light conversation as she slowly got her strength back so she could sit up and marvel at how much cream the male had pumped inside her, her belly was visibly larger from it all.

"She is a Weavile now" chuckles David "And still virgin... never found a guy who managed to woo her enough to take it from her."

"That's a surprise," Sakura said as she struggled to stand, cum dripping from her folds as she huffed. "Well, I'm sure she will sort that out eventually."

"Yeah. Thought we need to clean up right now" he started with a chuckle and looked around. To which she agreed and helped as best she could in her current state, the fact they fucked in various places in the library didn't help.

Half an hour later they sat reclothed and in a freshly cleaned library just as April entered. "Good morning" Sakura greeted the Sneasel before the mew could.

"Sakura?" asks the Sneasel in surprise "When did you get here?" and moves over and notices her stomach "And finally found somebody who you went to have kids with I see. Twins?" she asked

"Or triplets, I'm not sure yet" she giggled, "I met your son the other week on a hunt for my boss, quite a surprise I must say"

"That Simon is a hunter himself or that he moved to the other side of Skyrim?" she asked in curiosity.

"Both, and that he had such fertile seed in his balls" she mused, rubbing her belly with a playful smile April's way.

"How do-" she stopped and slowly narrowed her eyes "You... mated with my son? You, who could be HIS MOTHER AGEWISE?" and moved forward slowly "How did you trick him to take you? He's normally close to his age when it comes to mating?" and her voice sounded like she could melt flesh from the bones.

And if looks could kill. At least half of solitude would be gone by default right now. She had moved closer not backing down from her friend's challenging tone, her voice on the other hand was softer and more level. We were drunk, accidents happened, and it's not like we brought up age till MUCH later." By this point her rounded stomach pressed to April's soft flat stomach and couldn't repress a smirk when she felt them press together.

She narrowed her eyes and gave a deep glower of disapproval "I heavily doubted that you two kept the hands from each other afterwards or were drunk all the time" while physically restraining herself to outright attack the Eevee.

"No even after ages were explained he Pounced on me in fact" she mused

She sighed "I have to talk to him next time I see him..." she muttered while forcing herself to come down "Did he treat you well at least?"

"Oh yes he has" she purred "his mate even seems to have welcomed me, I'm having either twins or triplets to my estimation" she purred "oh and he asked if you and may would be visiting any time soon, I think he wants to show you how things are going for him, how successful his business has been.” She mused

“Which one? He is running three with his girl” deadpans April with crossed arms and half closed eyes “The hunting, the general store and their... brothel.”

“We’ll all of them of course, though I haven’t seen the general store yet, not properly” she giggled, a knock came to the door. Beyond the glass of the door, they could see a feathery Sneasel crown.

April tilts her head “I thought May wanted to come later” and went to open the door to greet her sister. Here they saw the other Sneasel, a little shorter but a bit more curvy than the older sibling. They greeted and chatted a moment before being welcomed in.

“Hellooooo” she waved cheerily

“Sis. You are quite early. I thought you wanted to clean up before joining us” she stated “And I know you were quite dirty... after having to show that orc who is the boss.”

“I did a quick once over, heard an Eevee was in town and I wanted to see if it was KuKu” she grinned at the Eevee who only gave a slight grumble back at the old nickname.

“As you can see it is Kuku” said April with a teasing done and glances over “And obviously going to be mother of two or three kids.”

“Not going to tell her father?” Sakura shot back at April.

“I am doing it after she stomachs the first info” she whispered “Don’t want to make her jump your throat”.

“You mean Simon’s?” She said with a smirk “I was practicing clairvoyance the other week, I guess I missed you telling April?” She chuckled “I was ready to murder her that night, but after thinking over everything I was seeing every time I used the spell over the last weeks and days, I can’t say I fault her, or him” she snickers

She blinked “Clairvoyance? But that spell is for guiding you to targets and locations as long you have an idea where or what it is. Seeking those things... that are not in the description” told the Sneasel. At least this is what she was always told about this spell.

“For a warrior maybe” she scolded “for some they can see distances but it’s not as effective as other spells” she looked at Sakura and moved to her sister.

Groaning loudly, April asks “Anything else I should be aware of?” while looking at them tiredly “Like that we are suddenly related to the Dragonborn or the likes?”

She looked up thinking and shook her head, “Nope” she then moved to Sakura and hugged her

April looks at her mate who just shrugs, as he was not expecting this as well... before asking "So... what shall we do now?"

"I need to rent an inn, better I sleep there where April can't kill me in my sleep" she mused and grins before petting May's feather crown.

"Har Har" laughed April and crossed her arms with a glare "I am laughing myself to death with that joke."

She Curtsied and kissed April on the cheek, dodging a claw swipe as she slipped out the door.

"Was she always so flippant?" May asked April

"Sadly yes" she stated with a sigh "And if you had a dick, she would have taken you right here, right now without a second thought."

"She likes a female Simon..." May deadpanned

"I am not sure if she is not even worse than him," she said to her sister.

Elsewhere at the tavern; Sakura had gotten a room and was relaxing for the evening, though she was already on the bed hugging her belly, a discomfort in it told her either the potion didn't work or did too well. The answer came in the morning as she found her belly bulge had swelled in the night, she now had a 3rd child in her womb, this one from a Mew male. She groaned at the extra weight and sat up already making mental notes on the potion mixture before she even got her journal out.

As she finished her notes she shifted in her chair and looked at the door to her room "you know you should practice your speaking skills more, I could hear you coming down the hall, invisibility doesn't muffle you"

Before her half way through the door May appeared as she cancelled her invisibility spell "well that's no fun" she smirked before coming in the room the rest of the way and shutting the door.

"I'm surprised you didn't tell April about my fucking her husband, from your smile when you saw me I can only- "

"Cause I it didn't seem to matter, her outrage and surprise at his child popping out of you will be priceless" she leaned in and kissed the Eevee.

A surprised Sakura froze at the kiss then relaxed and returned it before it ended, and she looked at the Weavile "is this why you never found a male to marry?"

"No, well maybe part of it, April thinks I need a guy, but guy OR girl would work for me"

As May undressed Sakura sighed "I'm going to be late to April's home today, aren't I?"

"Yes" was all May said with a happy smile.

A few hours later they arrived at April's home.

April opened the door after they knocked on it and she narrowed her eyes "What were you up to for coming that late?" she asked "I am waiting for five hours for you two to come. Did you go giant hunting or what?"

"No, no" Sakura waved a paw "had an accident in my room at the inn, needed to clean up the mess unless I wanted to pay for the damages, May showed up, she was able to help clean, eeh just ignore the pink tint to her feathers, it will fade after a day" She didn't elaborate on what happened between May showing up and the accident their love making caused.

May moved to hug her sister "yeah didn't think helping clean up potion ingredients would make me a little pink but at least it's only temporary" the younger sister sighed and combed a claw through her hair.

April raised an eyebrow and crossed her arms: "What kind of mess takes five hours to clean up?" as she tipped her finger on the arm "That can only happen in a room. Hence why no alarm was raised?" and narrows her eyes at Sakura. "Did you take somebody else into your bed and she had to help you clean up?"

"There aren't many males I can say I would like in this town" she sighed and glanced at the male mew and licked her maw. "In here though~" Sakura teased

"Paws of my mate" she hissed with narrowed eyes "It's bad enough that you breed with my son. Don't add David to it!"

Said mew makes sure not to give any hint how late this warning was... and makes a mental note that he has to take care of her issues soon or they have another incident like the mammoth massacre.

"Darn" she clicked her tongue and leaned against May "now can I see the guard training hall? Or did you want to show me anything?" She chuckled before bumping her thicc ass to May's side to see if she would fall over.

Thought she got herself stable and didn't fall over and wondered "Why do you want to see the training hall?" obviously confused about this request

She looked back to April "to see how it compares to the one I work in back home of course" she smiled "and a tour of the city sounds fun to me, least to kill some time before I head back to Simon." She shrugged

"I was aiming to go with her to see Simon, I missed my dear nephew, since someone didn't invite me the last time they went out that way" grumbled the Weavile with a slightly annoyed look and nodded "Let me show you the way towards the hall." she stated "Though I am not sure if the normal training is done at the moment... April isn't there after all. And without here people tend to... slack a little."

As May and Sakura left April would follow since she had the key, she wouldn't be able to hear the conversation between Sakura and May, though she did observe them chuckling and May poking gently at Sakura's rounded belly.

"Why do I think now that I miss something very important here right now?" muttered the Sneasel in wonder while crossing her arms and thought for a moment what kind of knowledge she has... though one thing is not even close to crossing her mind. Something that would have clued her in to the truth.

They arrived at the training grounds and Sakura began to inspect the facility critically. Her playful stance vanishing. April crossed her arms while watching the fox working her charm on the place to determine her vote.

She came back and said "it isn't the best set up, it will do for what you're working with I suppose" she moved to April "I can see a few improvements that could be made but overall you did a fine job" she smiled at her friend.

May cocked her eyebrow at this "since when did you know how to set up a training area?" She shifted her stance and looked at April as Sakura shrugged "I've gained a few skills since I've been away" she pulled a paper from a pouch and began to sketch some things out in it and handed it to May "this should improve things a little, I need to look some things up in your library, see if you can get those details sorted out before I get back"

May cocked her head at the paper as Sakura left and moved to show April "this is odd, I never pegged her for being able to set this up" on the paper was a full layout of the current training area, hastily sketched, and there were more crude lines etched out showing changes and suggestions for updates to the area for both the troops they were training. "Fire resistant targets for magic practice?" She tilted her head and looked at April.

"While I see the benefit... " began April and looked at her sister "I have to ask: Sakura does Remember that the average modern Nord is unwilling to learn magic at all?" and she reads the notes some more and huffed "Yeah, some of that stuff will be a hassle to get... either because I lack qualified people or the prices are way above my budget."

Sakura had reached the library and was sorting through the books "hmm" the male mew watching her. "Are you looking for something?" he asked her in curiosity.

"Yes, but that's not your business... yet. Oh, and you knocked me up" she said with a smirk and sideways glance his way, her hand on her stomach "if you couldn't tell from my belly getting a bit bigger overnight, April never was one to notice things like this" she rubbed the belly.

"Given it took six months before she realized she was pregnant with Sapphire, I am not heavily surprised" admits David while putting away a book "I love her but sometimes her denseness to certain topic can be very difficult and paused "And who did put the Lusty Argonian Maid to the instruction books for Alchemy?"

"I want to take credit for that, it wasn't me, but it is definitely something I would do" chuckled the Eevee as she glanced back at the mew "you aren't surprised the potion actually worked?" She raised an eye, if she was honest even, she was surprised it had worked.

David shrugged and counts up "I have a happy marriage with a woman who has a bad enough temper that even the Thalmor don't dare to approach her the wrong way, despite her still openly worshiping Talos, one of my best customers is a dragon, my daughter wrote me a month ago that she got chosen as Yvetals champion, I am friends with a Zangoose who got a Dwemer metal arm and my son has the receipt of two potions that either promises perfect conception after sex or perfect protection. Do you really think the idea you improved somehow on it is that odd for me?"

"This reasoning is fair" she mused, having not known many of those things had happened in her absence, she then moved and bumped her belly against him with a soft smile. "Well, I can't say I should be surprised this doesn't make you flinch much, but knowing April's temper I may keep this baby between us, between~us" she purred

"In doubt we can claim it is also one of Simons" mused David simply with a shrug "As long you don't add more, I think we are safe" and then mused "So, how was May in bed?" "Almost as fun as you are" she purred and rubbed her belly to him, her hand sliding to his pants "too bad she didn't have one of these or I may have had more new additions inside me"

"Still don't know how April cannot see that her sister is bi and not straight" shrugged David and shakes his head "Not to mention that I have the feeling it needs a really special type of person to convince her to get pregnant."

"Some refuse to see things different from how they believe things to be" she shrugged and leaned over to pick up a book from the shelf next to him.

David raised an eyebrow "Detection and Treatment of poisons?" Then he jumped when she groped his manhood, "how did she open your trousers without you noticing? Now that is the real question" she purred back with a smile and stroked him slowly.

He grunts loudly and looks at her "Aren't you pregnant enough? How is Simon keeping up with that?"

She coos back "he is already outpacing me with how much experience he has, besides my potion wore off well before this morning~" she hugged her arms around his neck and pulled herself up to kiss him, letting his pride rub between her very soft thicc thighs. She moaned into the kiss as he returned it reluctantly then purred as the kiss paused long enough for her to add "and I know full well he got his lust, and love of impregnating females from you~" She shifted and kissed again "and I don't think I missed you shifting in naughty lust when you saw this belly had gotten bigger~ with your child~" she continued the lewd kiss.

“Bold claim” he stated to her with his mind “If so, then why did I father only 3 kids so far?” as he tried to break the kiss... he really wants his work done and not being caught by potential customers. Not to mention he has other plans with his sperms.

She chuckled “you are afraid of your wife I would say” she teased him

“Or perhaps I just lack the funds to feed and raise an army of children,” he countered. “That’s a fun thought” she chuckled and bumped her hip to his. Her thicc rump giggled lightly. He grunts and asks “Do you really want to do that right now? Can’t you save it for Simon?”

The thicc Eevee purred “not till you take me like you dream of taking April” she moaned softly.

“Wrong place then.” he grunted and gropes her breast now in slight defeat “As I dream of pounding her in our bed. Not in my shop during the opening hours.”

“I wouldn’t defile someone’s bed~” she mused as she kissed him and pressed her chest into his palm, her need pressing her to indulge in the handsome mew once more but this time for pleasure’s sake. “If you’re good as last time, I will give you one of my specialty potions for free~”

He considered her words and bit his lower lips. On the one hand, there are those risks of taking her here and now... but it was also clear she would keep on with it until he would give in. And even go more blatant to a point where customers could find them there.

On the other hand, she does feel good. And the potion would really help with his plans. So, he used a physics move to lock the door and change the sign to “Closed” and he told her “Can you lay on the table?” he wondered to her.

She purred and slid up onto the table laying back, he thicc legs split open and she stroked her small mountain that was her pregnant belly then lifted her breasts to compare their size to her belly. As if from her touch alone her nipples began to drip milk down her breasts to her fingers.

Taking a deep breath, David went over to her and guided his pride towards between the legs and was soon pushing the tip against her folds, and then he pushed it inside, feeling how wet she actually was.

Grunting slightly in surprise he took hold of her legs and his tail pushed against her buttohole before he fully trusts his entire length into the womanhood of this Eevee, biting his lower lip as he starts moving his manhood in and out of her pussy. Going slow at first before getting up in his rhythm.

She let out a soft moan as her belly bounced from his slow pace, she purred as he teased her ass and gave him a naughty smile. She slid her paws from breasts to belly, her upper arms holding her tits up in a presenting way, as her paws stroked her gravid pregnancy.

“Look what he did” she coos “now I have babies from both father David and son Simon in me” she giggled

“You were asking for it” he grunted to her as he kept thrusting inside the normal type “And I do” he groaned with a shiver as he felt how her walls are now clenching harder on him “wonder... what... you will do... next” and went harder into her, as his tail pushed deeper into her as well, wiggling inside her to increase the effect.

She groaned “th-this” she lifted a potion, he instantly knew what it was, her new pregnancy potion, and he could stop her if he wanted. He grabbed her hand as he leaned forward “No, not this time!” he told her with narrowed eyes and a slight snarl. She gasped and He trusted harder as well with narrowed eyes.

Her walls gripped his cock and tail as he got rougher her thicc body jiggled as he drove deep inside her body. She moaned madly “fuck me like I’m yours” she drooled a bit as her breasts leaked milk from the force of their bounce, her belly wobbling firmly but not dangerously yet.

He shivered and tried... really tried but he is too deeply associating her as one of Simon's girls knowing his son had claimed her womb before him, as he keeps pounding and only got a fraction of the force going that she was expecting from him. “S-Sorry” he groaned as he keeps on and was already getting closer.

She reached up as best she could and pulled him down, over belly, past her tits and kissed him firmly. One of his hands slipped up and groped her milk leaking breast. His hand felt how heavy her breast was and how full of milk, his abs flexed against her stomach, and she moaned into the kiss.

Groaning into the kiss he blushes deep while pushing his tongue deep inside her mouth. And the tail pushes as deep into her butt hole as possible while he trusts very hard and shoots his seed into her womb.

She purred feeling the heat inside her flow over her future children whining that she couldn’t use her potion to make another child inside her. To David it seemed almost like she had a slight addiction to being, and getting, pregnant.

He shakes his head and writes that motion off... and starts slowly to pull out of her “I hope... you are satisfied now” he pants slightly “I really need to get to work... starting cleaning up here.” and looks at her “Next time get Simon. He is your mate if I got that right. Not me.”

She purred “he is my second mate~” she moaned pleased as she hugged her thicc thighs around his waist and tried to make an effort to take her potion back from him, though her sore and tired state made her sluggish, and her huge belly didn’t help.

Freezing on that statement he slowly asked “And... who is your... first?”

Due to him freezing in place she managed to get the potion from him. “Hey” he shouted and tried to take it back, as he realized what she did. He fights to get the bottle back, struggling to take the bottle back... and eventually he manages to snatch it from her.

As he moved it out of her reach, he called to her. "You are not going to get more sex crazed with more children in your womb! Let the three you have now be born first!!"

He hears her whine behind him, and after a short time he heard her leave the shop, her books she looked for to help April were also gone. She most likely went back to help the Sneasel in an annoyed mood,

Shaking his head David Muttered "Perhaps Saph hits her enough for getting the mind back on track." and looked at the potion "Now what to do with you..." while looking at the contents of it; It looked like a stranded healing potion without a label, just the usual healing colour.

"Could it... be..." he whispered and opened the bottle and sniffed it. Where did he smelt... roses? Blinking he looks at the bottle again, shrugs and puts the cork back in, and grabs one of his spare labels he usually uses for books and markets it with a symbol for females before moving towards his closet and putting it to other bottles before locking it up. "Hope she is NOT trying to break that open for it." he muttered and went back to get the place open for business again "I do sometimes wonder what is lacking in the concept of people having normal working hours that she is not able to wait for the people she wants to lay to be free."

Some hours later the females have almost finished the upgrades to the training yard, Sakura folding her documents away into her bag and returning with April and May to the library. As they enter "hm David isn't here" Sakura notated as they look around and return the books to their proper places, April opens the potion cabinet with a key to get a healing potion for a small injury she got while doing the construction.

May and Sakura bid her farewell as she picks up a potion from the cabinet "are you sure you want to leave so soon? I get you're eager to get home to Simon but- "
Sakura interrupts "yes I'm sure, I feel ready to pop" she rubs her belly "and I can't say no to May wanting to help me get back" she smiles with joy.

April nodded to her in understanding "Then have safe travels the two of you... and I will tell David that you two gave your greetings once he is back to the shop."

And once the two females were gone, the Sneasel took a swing of the supposed potion... not even once having looked at the label.
