

The Three Time Blessed City

The two lovers cuddle some more under the warm sun of Italy, then, they get up and put their clothes, ready to go for another easy conquest, leaving a devastating Rome behind them.

After the destruction of the Italian capital, most governments were in full panic mode, trying to evacuate the majors cities of their countries as fast as possible to spare as many lives as possibles as they seem to be the target of the two deities, creating massive confusion and panic around the globe.

Even if the Adriatic Sea wasn't really an obstacle for them, they walk to the North getting around it, then, they head South Est, crossing the Balkans, destroying several cities under their divines soles despite the -futile– opposition of the mortals in their way. They soon reach Greece and it Capital, Athens.

They look down at the place, noticing, as always, the mortals trying to desperately leaving, creating accidents, massive crowd and destruction.

Looking at it, they recognized some places of the metropolis, they look at each others and smile. As their country was invaded by Greek centuries ago, they know their language, at least the old version of it, then, remembering that the ancient Greeks also worshiped some Egyptian Gods after their invasion, they decided to spare the city, at one condition.

And, speaking to each other in Ancient Greek, to be understood as most as possible by the locals.

“ Mmm, it look like we reached Greece, this remind me some memories.

– Indeed my dear Horus, if I remember these Greek included some of us in their pantheon back in the day.

– They did, and they also give us some good leaders.

– Yes, too bad they changed there religion to this false god." Said Nekhbet before crushing a church with a toe of one of her foot.

“ Maybe we could spare the place, what do you think dear?

– I like the idea, this city can also be a good place for the Pharaoh who will rule Europe.

– Mmm, I think I know who you have in mind for this role. ”

While they speak, the Vulture headed Goddess use her power to get back to live another dead Egyptian leader. Deep in the harbor of Alexandria, the last Pharaoh Egypt ever had, Cleopatra the Seventh, was back to life, a 300 meters of her, en start swimming to the Greek capital to take her new place.

“ Listen mortals! ” Said Horus “ We agree to spare your metropolis if you accept to abandon your false god to worship us. ”

Some peoples, listening to them and capable to understand what they were saying, try spread their message, but, in the middle of the panic, it was no use.

The two Gods wait a few, some groups start praying and worshipping them, offering them some clumsy prays, filled with fear.

They decided to give them the benefit of the doubt, they used their power to convert as most mortals as possible around, then, leave the city, creating only light destruction compared to the other places they visited before.

But it was just a short relief for its inhabitants, as some hours after, their new Queen reached it to start her new reign.

Horus and Nekhbet continue their walk, destroying Istanbul, crossing the Bosphorus Strait, and crossing Turkey then heading South, crossing Syria, Lebanon then reach Israel and Jerusalem, leaving only death and destruction in their path, finally bringing peace to the region, in a way.

“ And another high place of these silly monotheists waiting for their true and only Gods.

– Yes, I feel down this metropolis the power of more centuries of prayers waiting for us, you really know what are the best places to visit my dear Horus.

– Indeed my dear, I made you visit the most interesting and beautiful place... the most beautiful place, for the most beautiful woman. ” added the falcon God before kissing the neck of the vulture lady.

“ Tss, tss, you can't help flattering me, but I must admit this place is lovely, I understood why it was Blessed in most of these monotheist religions.

– Yes, but this land was also part of our Kingdom at one point, it's time to reclaim it, don't you think?

– Of course, better late than never like we say. ”

The two deities were chatting and walking in the city, not taking any care at the screaming and panicked people who were trying to escape their divine soles and were running in the nearby shelters. After they reach the town center, they remove their clothes and the Goddess sat down, crushing several buildings under her butt, then, she arch her back and move her head back, enjoying the warm sun on her body. At the view, Horus smile and feel his cock grow and harden again, spreading its strong musk around, then, he sat on Nekhbet's body, smile to her and kiss her.

“ Mmm, you like to show yourself off, don't you?

- And I'm not the only one dear. ” She answered with a smile on her beak.

He smile back to her and rub her breasts, gently teasing her nipples, before placing his hard member between them. She lay down, grab her boobs and squeeze Horus dick with them, while he was slowly moving his hips making his shaft coming and going between his lover breasts.

They keep going, smiling and teasing each other, their moans contrasting with the sound of chaos that were raging in the city. In their sexual game, they start absorbing the centuries of prayers that were buried in the ground of this sacred place, making them growing bigger slowly, their expanding bodies pushing and crushing more constructions and killing the mortals who weren't able to evacuate on time.

They keep going, Horus move his hips more groaning of pleasure as he push his shaft further between Nekhbet's breasts, make them bounce a few and provoking light earthquake. As they continue, Nekhbet's warm and wet cunt start leaking its divine smelly fluid, a pond start forming between her legs, the mixed smell of her fluid and Horus musk start attracting the mortals around, it didn't take long before the strong smell intoxicate them, converting most of them, the ones who try to resist start screaming in pain while the other kneel and start worshipping their new Gods.

The deities continue, growing bigger as they finally had now enough worshipers to grow by their prayers alone. Horus cock grow and his balls swell as his pleasure rise, his lover open his beak and start licking and sucking the precumming tip of his shaft, making him moan more. The strong smells of the deities were flowing in the city, reaching the inside of the buildings and the shelters where a lot of people find refuge through ventilation systems, people wonder what was that strong smell, but it didn't take long it start convert them, adding some more worshipers. At one point, the deities feel light tickle on their feet, they soon realized that mortals were gathering near their feet to lick and rub them.

“ Mmm, good little worshipers, they now even take care of part of our body. ”

The two deities continue their game, Horus shove his member further in Neknbet's mouth while she keep licking and pressing his shaft between her breasts. The member of the Falcon God grow again some more and start throbbing, announcing his soon orgasm.

Still growing, the two Gods were crushing more and more blocks of building, the people who think to be in safety in the shelter were soon crushed by the weight of the two titans.

Horus push his member deeper in his lover mouth and throat, bulging his, she choke of few, then, he push a loud moan of pure bliss and cumed in her mouth, offering her a warm drink of godly seed. Drinking his love juice, she soon orgasmed too, squirting huge load of her divine liquid on the imprudent mortals that were between her legs, burning and dissolving them. Absorbing the last remains of the prayers buried in the grounds or the city while lost in pleasure, they grow some more, their bodies crushing a large part of the town.

They pant a few once their orgasms fade, Horus slide his cock out of Nekhbet's mouth and look at her, she choke a few, some of her lover cum leak on her body, then, she smile to him.

“ Mmm, well, that was something, I'm not definitively not the only one who love to show of my dear Horus.

- Indeed, we gave these mortal a beautiful spectacle.

- Hehe, yes, well, I really like this place you know, in a way I understand why it was chosen by all these silly monotheist as a holy place, it's a good things we wiped there ugly town, it's way better now,

- A place where they will worship the real Gods. ” He added smiling to her.

Horus get out of Nekhbet and lick her cum covered body, then, she helped her getting up.

“ Mmm, I didn't know that my seed taste like this, it's pleasant I must admit ” he observed.

His lady laugh a few, then, after rubbing their butts and legs to remove the rest of mortals body and debris they put their clothes, now towering at 14,520 and 15,488 meters, they walk to their next destination, leaving the ruins of the former Jerusalem behind them.
